Primitive African Dance Will Be Featured On Orchesis Program In Morris Dailey Tomorrow Night

By MAXINE SIPES

"Primitives," an interesting study of African rhythms, will be one of the dance selections to be given on the Orchesis program tomorrow night in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

This dance features three soloists and a chorus, who will respond to the leader in an African fashion. Many of the steps to this unusual presentation are authentic pristine movements, learned by the members of Orchesis from Katharine Dunham at the Dance Symposium last year at San Francisco State college. Miss Dunham is a famous authority on primitive dances.

Music for this number is being played on tom-toms. The rhythms used were adapted from records made in Africa of genuine tribal ceremonies. Soloists for this dance are Betty Stowe, Mary Hurd, and Jean Moss.

"Summer Suite" is another selection that has the makings of a hit. Music for it is Alfred Newman's "Street Scene." It is divided into three parts—Languid, Frisky, and Carefree. It is purely chorus work—no solos are involved.

"Trivia," a trio featuring Marian Jacobson, Mary Hurd, and Heather Whitton, demands some explanation. It is a take-off on Hitler, Mussolini, and Hirohito, and the qualities of these three men, plus characteristics of a gorilla, ape, and chimpanzee, are combined to form an amusing, satiric dance.

Choreography for the program was all done by the dancers. Reserved seat tickets may be had by calling at the Women's gym or from any member of Orchesis. There is no admission charge, and one may attend without a ticket, but the best seats are obtained with tickets.

The program will begin at 8:15 and will last about an hour and a quarter.

Music Composition Contest Winners Are Announced

Winners of San Jose State college's eleventh annual Music Composition contest were announced yesterday by George T. Matthews, head of the music department.

Award winners are as follows: piano solo, Barbara Davis and Geraldine Hawkins; vocal solo, Katharine Bergeron and Salvatore Russo; instrumental ensemble, Don Whitehead, Crawford Gates, and Duran Hernandez; instrumental solo, Stanley Hollingsworth and Salvatore Russo.

Judge of the contest was Professor Earle Bladeslee of Chaffey Junior college, Ontario, California.

The winning selections will be played at a concert, the date to be in about two weeks, says Matthews. Also at this concert the departmental awards honoring the best music students, and the Jan Kalas cash award for the best senior man and woman music major will be granted. This award is given by the Phi Mu Alpha.

Inter-Fraternity Holds Semi-Annual Barbecue Monday; Good Time Planned

Probably the last joint function for the duration, the semi-annual Interfraternity barbecue will be staged Monday, May 24.

Sponsored by the Interfraternity council, the barbecue will be held under the chairmanship of Bill Mitchell. Mitchell announces the site of the outing will be the Swiss-American club, located just off Almaden.

A semesterly affair, the barbecue will be under the joint sponsorship of the six campus social fraternities. Purpose of the meet is to promote better relations among the members of the six groups.

Slated to get under way at 4:00 and continue until 8:00, the day will feature athletic contests, refreshments, and other congenial devices, all leading toward a day of fun for the fraternity men, Mitchell announced.

Students Wanted At Rose Gardens

College students may spend another evening at the Municipal Rose Gardens tonight, trimming the dead buds from the bushes.

Last week there was a good turnout at the gardens, which helped a great deal, the Placement office reported. Each group or person wanting to help may report to the Gardens this evening with scissors, a basket and gloves.

For further information see Miss Robinson in the Placement office.

MUSIC PROGRAM FEATURES WOMEN VIOLINISTS MAY 25

Featuring 10 solo violinists, all State college women, the eighth annual evening of Chamber music will be presented by outstanding student and faculty musicians Tuesday, May 25, in the Little Theater.

These violinists will play the ultra-modern "Study in Sonority" by the American composer, Wallingford Riegger.

For the completely different effect produced, one performer beats on the back of the violin with her bow, while another tunes her G string down to E. In a recent letter to Miss Robinson, Composer Riegger suggested that the number be repeated at the close of the program for complete audience appreciation.

Other student soloists of the evening will be Violinists Gwendolyn Thomas and Dorisse Thomassen. Miss Thomassen will also play the viola part to the Mozart Concerto for violin and viola. She is scheduled to be one of the soloists at the spring symphony concert here June 8, playing the difficult Paganini Concerto.

Senior Class Council Meets Tonight To Plan Activities For Rest Of Quarter; Big Week Set For Last Year Students

With chairmen appointed for the various functions, an exciting Senior Week is being planned for the well worn fourth year students, according to class president "Chuck" McCumby.

There will be a class council meeting tonight at 7:15 in room 53 open to all class members who wish to present ideas for senior activities for the remainder of the quarter.

Hugh Manley, class vice-president, is general chairman for Senior week with six chairmen working on separate functions under his leadership. Chairmen of the various activities are: Lorraine Titcomb, Senior Ball; John Kain, Senior Banquet; Fred Joyce, Theater Party; Jack Breslin, Class Picnic; Charles McCumby, Baccalaureate; Margaret Bailey, Senior Tea.

Dr. Ralph Lutz, Dean of the Hoover War Library, will be the commencement speaker, according to McCumby.

"This has been a great year to date and we really want to wind it up in an unforgettable manner," states Manley.

"Senior week will be the end of four very happy years here at State by one of the best classes that ever trod on the Washington Square green," reminisced McCumby. "This is our quarter and I hope we aren't disturbed by any lower element."

To date 18 V-7 seniors have received their tentative orders to report in New York City by June 21. If many more receive their orders, some substitute for graduation will be furnished them.

Faculty advisers are Bill Hubbard, Dr. B. Gregory, Dr. J. DeVoss, Miss E. Spear, Miss D. Flanagan.

Presidential Contestants Announce Platforms

By JOHNNIE HOWE

Another councilman-elect, Elsa Anderson, has announced her candidacy for the office of vice-president in tomorrow's student body election. The other contestant for the office is Jeanette Owen.

COMMERCE DEPT. TO MAKE AWARDS RECOGNITION DAY

Awarded each year to the graduating commerce major man and woman chosen "most likely to succeed," the Alpha Al Sirat awards will this year be presented at the Recognition Day assembly, June 1.

Usually given to the winners at the annual Commerce dinner, the change of policy was made only after cancellation of the Commerce dinner, according to Mel Wright, in charge of the faculty-sponsored awards.

This year there are nine men and ten women vying for their respective awards.

The men are: Douglas Curry, David Farley, George Foote, Donald Haas, Harold Hagen, Gene Long, James Lowrey, Eldon Mahoney, and Cyril Taylor.

Women listed are as follows: Bethel Beatie, Marjorie Behrman, Helen Donovan, Mary Etta Downing, Ethel Mae Hall, Mildred Kellogg, Mildred Kemp, Madelyn Murch, Dorothy Norville and Renee Price.

The two winners will be presented with Alpha Al Sirat certificates, and will have their names engraved on a plaque containing the names of previous winners.

The procedure followed in choosing the winners includes rating the eligible students by the faculty, by other graduating commerce majors, and with regard to scholarship.

In past years, Mr. Wright explained, a rating was also required from prominent downtown business men. This year many of the qualified students are in the armed services and a personal interview (Continued on page 4)

KSJS Give Play In Oakland; Hatlen's Show Saturday

Norman Corwin's famous radio play, "The Odyssey of Runyon Jones," will be enacted by KSJS'ers before Fremont High students in a radio production. Saturday, Jack Hume will play the one part in Ted Hatlen's original radio play, "Lonesome Death," to be presented over KQW at 1:30.

Peter Mingrone of the Speech department is directing the Oakland show cast which includes Barbara Whittaker as Runyon Jones; Milt Brietzke as the First Clerk and Second Director; Clarence Cassell as the Second Clerk and Chairman; Bill Kidwell as Super, Bert Holland as Father Time, First Director, and Announcer; Jeanette Thimann as Chrono; Dolores Dolph as Blossom; Jack Miller as the Giant; and Duane Heath as the Second Officer.

"The Odyssey of Runyon Jones" was first produced over the Columbia Broadcasting System in 1941. It tells the story of a little boy who goes to heaven in search of his dog which was run over in an accident.

The field of presidential candidates remains unchanged with Ken Coleman, Jane Reed and Sebastian Squatrito running.

Miss Anderson's announcement brought to five the total of those elected to the council attempting to crash into the presidential circle. Those elected to next year's council and not seeking any other office are Claire Laws and Mary Lou Montgomery.

The council next year is made up of five women and two men, showing the lack-of-men trend that prevails on-campus. Previously there has never been more than three women on the council—the men always maintaining a majority.

Platforms and qualifications of vice-presidential candidates will appear in tomorrow's daily.

Each of the three candidates for president of the student body for the year 1943-44 have been asked by the Spartan Daily to submit a short statement of aims or a platform. The contestants replied with the following statements:

KEN COLEMAN

Conditions next year will present a challenge that we, as Spartans, must be capable of meeting. However, the success of campus life and student affairs will depend wholly on the students and their chosen leaders. We must all work together. Unity must be our watchword.

Rumors of State being "dead" next fall are about as well founded as the one that "Dr. DeVoss's hair is beginning to grow again." If elected as student body president, I will cooperate in every way with the students in planning lots of activities. If at all possible, I would like to see the Spartan Daily and the La Torre continue as they have in the past. I have hopes for lots of dances and games—yes, and Spardi Gras.

Then, too, I believe that we should keep all the traditions which have grown deep in the hearts of every Spartan and we should begin new traditions for those who are to follow.

And to you Spartans who must leave to serve our country throughout the world, I pledge myself to carry on those things of which you have been so much a part.

JANE REED

I would first like to take this opportunity to thank all those who voted for me.

You know as well as I that plans and platforms made today can be changed tomorrow. Even if things will be uncertain, one thing we can be sure of is that all former Spartans will be informed, as much as possible, as to the doings of the college. One other thing that we can be sure of is a wider range of activities in AWA and Social Affairs.

Scrappy SQUATRITO

Mr. Laurence Mendenhall, acting head of the Speech department, has announced that there will be no plays next year. Music department heads have said that activities will be cut down next year. P. E. Director Glen "Tiny" Hartranft has stated that he (Continued on page 4)

SPARTAN DAILY, THURSDAY, MAY 20, 1943

Letters written for the Thrust and Parry column on this page must be signed with the writer's full name and the number of his student body card.

Limit on the length of Thrust and Parries is 250 words per article. All contributions should be turned into the Contributors' box just inside the entrance to the Publications office.

There are several Thrust and Parries turned in without ASB card numbers. If the authors will come in between 1 and 3 and add it to their stories, they will be run at the earliest convenience.

Dear Thrust and Parry:

I am deeply interested in Derrell Bond's brilliant ideas on the solving of the Japanese-American problem—"put them all on a boat, take it out 100 miles from shore and sink it."

This, in my opinion, shows an excellent understanding of our democratic form of government and is a statement with real and mature thought behind it. Here is the way to solve all of the problems of the post-war world—we will simply get a lot of boats, fill them with the populations of our conquered enemies, and sink the boats (100 miles from shore).

This proposition of Mr. Bond's is not to be regarded as the idle and unfounded outburst of a sophomoric adolescent—no, indeed!

Mr. Bond's opinion will probably be accepted as an erudite and scholarly observation by all far-sighted experts in the social and political field, as Mr. Bond's idea is almost perfect. It is simple. It is cheap. It solves the whole problem with one easy-to-follow formula.

I certainly hope that the May 18th issue of the Spartan Daily will be widely circulated so that many of our friends outside the college will realize that real intelligent thought may be found here—if only in one student.

Mr. Bond, you are to be congratulated; in only two years of college, you have become a true democratic thinker.

You should change your first name to something more patriotic, however. How about "War Bond"?

Sincerely (?)

Harrison McCreath,
S. B. Card No. 2473.

P.S.—Do you think 100 miles from shore is far enough? Some of the little children are pretty good swimmers.—H. McC.

ORCHESIS PERFORMS

Producing for the public the remarkable results of a year of persistent practice, the Orchesis groups will be assured of an appreciative crowd Friday night.

For, on the basis of reputation alone, this organization has succeeded every year in attracting men and women students alike.

Offering a perfected routine of dance techniques for the first part of the program, the dancers will illustrate leaps, falls, contraction, and reaches, to acquaint the audience with later dances. Outstanding among these is a solo performance by Paulamæ Eder and an intricate Polish dance by Heather Whitton and Marion Jacobson.

But perhaps the most startling effect of all is obtained, with the help of special lighting, in the trio number entitled "Hands."

Faculty Advisor Barbara Ross and Orchesis members may well reap their award now with the satisfaction what they will be presenting a program, their first this year, that is well-prepared, well-organized, and well worth while. —Sabelman.

As the NYA payroll month closes Sunday, all women's time-cards must be handed in by Friday noon.

Those who are working Saturday or Sunday may see Dean Helen Dimmick to make arrangements accordingly.

OUT OF THE HUDDLE

By CHARLES COOK
Sports Editor

At last we have found someone who has taken up the cudgel on our behalf. It can be inferred from his letter that Mr. Broyles' latest contribution has riled the athletic faction no end. However, we will have to admit defeat in our abortive effort to promote the Prof PEV program. The time element alone was enough to frustrate any hopes of success. With the college year drawing to a close, the profs are safe from any further attack; by this writer at least.

On the other hand, we are so much at odds with Broyles' blasts that we find it difficult to refrain from more comment on his stand. Not concerning the PEV idea, but relative to his views that this machine age has nullified the use of muscle power by our armed forces. With the latter thought in mind we are printing, after a good deal of expurgating and censoring, a letter from "one of the boys."

STINGING RETORT

Dear Mr. Broyles:

For the past school year I have read your idle patter in "Thrust and Parry." In your last article regarding "horses and sub-humans" you have reached a new low in academic thinking.

You stated—"Machines are winning this war, and minds, not muscle, are needed to operate them successfully." Such a statement shows little knowledge of military facts. A machine is only as good as the man who operates it. For example: a brainy man with little or no physical fitness is not worth a damn with a machine gun. His brain can't carry it 18 miles.

A brilliant mind without the company of coordination and physical condition is not worth a hoot in this war. Military authorities agree that this war will be finally won by the man on the ground.

You can't reason logically with a fanatic Jap by saying—"My IQ is 116 and yours is only 100, hence I win. Bang, bang!"

Those so-called horses and sub-humans are fighting this war for you and I, and please don't for one minute forget that.

Finally, what good is a good mind without some muscles to back it up?

Yours for more muscle,

Sub Human No. 1587.

While we aren't as dogmatic (and personal) as Sub Human No. 1587, we are forced to disagree just as vociferously with Mr. Broyles.

RIDING HIGH

The Commerce department's faculty members spotted the P.E. department males 100 points the other evening and then soundly trounced muscle masterminds in a departmental bowling congress now under way. With this victory fresh in their minds, the Commerce men have issued a blanket challenge to all other faculty members.

Following is their publicity release:

The men of the Commerce department made good their threat that they could outbowl any other faculty group. The Men's Physical Education department accepted the challenge, but to no avail. The scores follow:

Commerce Outfit Meets Signal Corps' 'Slide Rule Sams' In Opener This Afternoon On San Carlos Street Turf

With only one day remaining before the deadline, only two teams have filed their official entries in the intramural softball tourney that receives its start this afternoon on the San Carlos turf.

The two teams that have entered officially, the Commerce club and Signal Corps, will start their tilt at 3 p. m. Manager Cyril Taylor released his roster yesterday afternoon and announced that they would be ready to go at the starting time today.

Players signed up for the "Commerce Clowns" are as follows: Jim Wilson, Cyril Taylor, "Izzy" Gold, J. A. Berger, Jim Chinici, Stan Arronson, Dick Roderick, Harvey Gorham, Bob Hill, Bob Justice, Joe Talbot, Larry Hansen, and Don Butcher. Taylor will probably handle the pitching for the desk-sitters.

Manager Al Peters has announced the signing of the following players for his "Slide Rule Sams": Whitmore, Peters, Emerson, Steiger, Johns, Fagin Goldstein, Pasner, Cusimano, West, Appleson, Taufest, Mann, Fortier, Battiger, and Mack.

There are two Signal Corps teams on the campus and both will play in the tourney, but the one that is playing today is the championship outfit as the result of a series between the two teams.

All teams that are planning to enter must have their entries in not later than 3 p. m. tomorrow or they will not be allowed to play.

Rules governing play and entries are as follows:

1. All entries, line-ups, and times available for play must be in the Sports department by Friday afternoon.
2. No more than three varsity baseball players are allowed on any one team.
3. Team that is not ready to play

ELWOOD CLARK ADDED TO S. J. ENTRY LIST FOR SATURDAY'S MEET AT FRESNO; HORN'S LEG HEALING

Elwood Clark's name has been added to the Spartan entry list for the Fresno Relays, boosting the total number of San Jose participants to seven.

Clark is a high class javelin heaver who has been operating under the handicap of a bad arm for the last year or so, but the arm is slowly working itself back to normal now, and as a result his distances are improving every week.

Two years ago he won the national J. C. javelin championship with a mark of approximately 190 feet. Shortly after that he developed a kink in his elbow which has kept him down around 160 feet for a long time.

Last week, however, at the Modesto Invitational, he uncorked a 176-foot throw in his last try, to take a second in the event. Then, right after that—to satisfy himself that his comeback was no fluke—he picked up the javelin and tossed it again, bettering his preceding attempt by more than five feet.

If everything goes right at Fresno Saturday, and nothing happens to his elbow again, he may throw the spear out pretty close to his lifetime best of 190 feet.

Another item of a cheerful nature is that Kenny Horn is recovering from his leg injury very fast, and should be able to run in the relays. He pulled a muscle at Modesto last week, and it was thought then that he might be out for the rest of the season, but he has been working out carefully the last few days, and his leg doesn't seem to bother him very much.

Spardi Gras committee meeting Friday in the Student Union at 4 p. m. Imperative that all chairmen be there on time.—Orlyn Gire.

Spartan Daily Staff Is Awarded Honorary Citizenship In Boys' Town

In recognition of their generosity, the Spartan Daily staff has been awarded Honorary Citizenship in Father Flanagan's Boys' Town.

Boys' Town will celebrate its 25th birthday this year. During the 25 years it has been in existence, Boys Town has clothed and fed thousands of boys of all races and religious creeds.

Father Flanagan's home for abandoned boys became nationally famous several years ago, when a movie starring Mickey Rooney called "Boys' Town" was produced.

From a humble start in an old house in Omaha, Boys' Town is now a modern institution, boasting nearly all the facilities of a large university. Large dormitories, a new gymnasium, chapel, post office, and even their own farm, which produces milk and vegetables, are among the accomplishments of Boys' Town and Leader Father Flanagan.

TABLE GAMES FOR SERVICE DANCES

Something new has been inni-vated into the Thursday evening Servicemen's dance, announced Mrs. Sarah Wilson, faculty sponsor of the affairs.

Table games, for the servicemen who do not care to dance, are now part of the evening's entertainment. As there are quite a few more men than women that attend these dances, more girls are asked to sign up for them.

All women who wish to attend should sign up with Miss Norona in the Women's gym before 4:00 this afternoon. The dances begin at 7:30 and end at 10:30.

ASB ELECTIONS

doesn't know if sports will be carried on next year.

Thus, with those statements facing the 1943-1944 council, I pledge myself to meet these activity shortages by having more student body get-togethers, a settlement of the Petrillo controversy (if not settled by then), stage shows, assemblies, and other activities.

A complete revision of the constitution, allowing a greater participation in school politics, and the maintenance of the same Health Cottage service and Spartan Daily will be made.

Other things may be added, but that old proverb, "actions speak louder than words," still holds true.

After the rest of the teams send their entries in, a schedule will be drawn up with one or two games every afternoon.

Chairman Selects Alumni Groups

Campus personalities figure prominently in the committees for the annual Alumni Homecoming, Saturday, June 5. Committee chairmen were announced this week by Mrs. Alice Down Luckhardt, Class of '23, who is general chairman for the Homecoming.

Inter-society members will serve as guides for visiting alumni during the day, and Spartan Spears will carry on their tradition of serving at the outdoor luncheon—main event of Homecoming.

Miss Joyce Backus, librarian, is in charge of a special exhibit in the Treasure room, which the Alumni association helped furnish. J. C. Stillwell, superintendent of buildings and grounds, will supervise setting up of tables and platforms for the luncheon and variety program. The Art department will do decorations.

Doris Barbarez of the Placement bureau is on the committee for accepting luncheon reservations; Miss Doris Robinson, acting Placement secretary, is assisting Mrs. Luckhardt with general arrangements; and Miss Clara Hinze, social science instructor, is on the Reception committee.

A number of other campus citizens will aid with Homecoming preparations. The committees are also bolstered with many members from off-campus.

This afternoon's battle should send the tourney off to a rousing start, both of the teams being among the strongest entered. The commerce team had a practice session yesterday and have plenty of experienced players on hand, while the Signal Corps lads have been playing every day for the past three weeks and are in fine fettle.
